ALLOCATION CRITERIA &GENERAL TERMS OF SALE

Stand allocation will be made in the order in which registrations are received via the SFMN website, using the online booking form on which you will indicate your preferred stand according to the exhibition floor plan and the pricing schedule set ou below.

The final and definitive allocation of stand locations shall be determined by ACORAMEN. No claims or complaints regarding stand allocation may be made prior to the meeting or during the build-up period. Nevertheless, the stand location indicated by the exhibitor on the booking form will be givien priority consideration.

A deposit of 30% must accompany the booking (before 30 october). Receipt of this deposit will consitute confirmation of your stand reservation. A final invoice showing the outstanding balance will be issued, and payment of the balance must be received no later the 2 February 2026. If you require a deposit invoice or a quotation, please indicate this at the time of booking.

All payments shall be deemed final and will not be refunded in the event of withdrawal or cancellation for reasons not directly attributable to ACORAMEN.

ACORAMEN reserves the right to accept or refuse any application without providing any justification.

Similarly ACORAMEN reverses the right not to honour a stand allocation or to refuse access to the exhibition should any amounts due remain unpaid by the stated deadlines.

EXCEPTIONS REGARDING NUCLEAR IMAGING CENTERS

The Ginoux room on the ground floor is reserved for manufacturers of equipment and medical devices, software providers, and pharmaceutical companies (or candidates currently undergoing the approval process) for Nuclear Medecine.

For any other type of activities, your booth/location will be assigned on the first floor, in the bar loung area.

Thank you for your understanding.
